Meet The Future Stars of the LPGA!

The IOA Golf Classic returns to Longwood this year on the "Road to the LPGA". Alaqua Country Club will host 144 of the best young female players in the world for 54 holes of competitive play. Each professional will be contending for a piece of the $100k purse. The Symetra Tour Professionals' stakes are high at this tournament, as it is the second to last event of the year, and they will be playing for their chance to win a ticket to the 2016 LPGA.

We invite you to join us for this wonderful event that will support two very special local non-profits. Through participating in this event you are not only supporting the dreams of these young female professionals in their journey to the LPGA, but more than that the dreams of children across the United States. This 2015 tournament is centered around "Making Dreams Come True" and we are privileged to be partnered with two organizations that are headquartered in Central Florida, Give Kids the World (GKTW) and Feeding Children Everywhere (FCE). Help us host the first FCE food packing event on the Symetra Tour that will provide meals for children in Central Florida. Also, be a part of a magical volunteering opportunity for Marc's DinoPutt at the GKTW village to host children for mini-rounds of putt putt and get autographs from the young stars (yes, the children are the celebrities at the village). Let's fight local hunger and bring joy to the lives of children with life-threatening illnesses, through coming together for a professional women's golf event.
